DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-13, drawn to tube pump, classified in class 417, subclass 474.
- II. Claims 14-17, drawn to a method of pumping, classified in class 417, subclass 53.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another and materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In the instant case a tube pump having an actuator, controller and feedback system could be used in a process wherein the feedback system prevents damage to the drive/actuator system.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

This application contains claims directed to the following two patentably distinct sets of species: Species Set 1 directed to the arrangement of the actuator to the pumping portion: species 1 being the actuating part does not completely surround and species 2 being the actuating part completely surrounds the tube; Species Set 2 relates to the type of actuating system (note page 7 of the specification): species 1 being a linear translation system, species 2 is a pneumatic or hydraulic system, species 3 is a magnetic solenoid, electrical stepper or DC motor, species 4 is a "pseudo electrical effect", species 5 being the effect of contractility of skeletal muscles based on polymers or magnetic fluids, or grown heart muscle tissue, species 6 is a coil only around the segment, and species 7 being a magnet having a substantially U-shaped yoke (Fig. 4). The species are independent or distinct because the species are mutually exclusive and are not capable of use together.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species from each of the above Species Sets for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 8 and 14 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species.

MPEP § 809.02(a).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

The examiner notes that the elected species from each Species Set should be fully disclosed and enabled and that the two species elected should be disclosed as operating together.
